State Superintendent of Education Dr. Richard Thompson presents Hancock County Middle School teacher Dorothy Stewart with a $25,000 check awarded to her by the Milken Family Foundation as part of the National Educator Award.

Hancock Middle School's Stewart earns $25,000 national grant

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Hancock Middle School eighth grade English teacher Dorothy Stewart received a Milken Family Foundation National Educator Award for $25,000 on Monday at a special assembly at the school. The award was presented by State Superintendent of Education Dr. Richard L. Thompson in a surprise ceremony.

The assembly was called under the pretense of a speech by Thompson on the subject of student achievement and only a handful of people were aware of the pending announcement.

The money may be used in any way Stewart chooses, without restriction.

"We are so proud of our Milken recipients," said Thompson. "These individuals are living examples of a quality educator and proof that outstanding teachers really do make a world of difference to student success. We reward actors, athletes, musicians and others, but too often we forget our teachers."

Stewart has been teaching for five years and is known among her colleagues for the deep degree of concern and caring she shows to her students. Fellow educator Tina Ellzey said of Stewart, "She assesses a student's needs and meets them. She has the lowest failure rate in her department because she refuses to give up on any student."

Stewart served as Chairperson of the Language

New mobile home ban hearing scheduled

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors sidestepped a potentially explosive public hearing Wednesday on a controversial proposal to ban mobile homes in certain areas.

Proponents and opponents to the ban began assembling in the board's meeting room on the second floor of the downtown Courthouse as early as 9 a.m. when the board convened for its recessed meeting, although the public hearing was not scheduled to come up on the agenda until 11 a.m.

Shortly into the meeting, county attorney Gerald Gex announced to the audience he was advising the Board to return the proposal to the county Planning and Zoning Commission, instructing that agency to schedule another public hearing on the trailer ban, which would require amending the county's Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance.

Gex said he based his decision on the fact that the Planning Commission's previous public hearing on the proposal was flawed.

He said, "there was no finding of fact" on record to justify the ban because the Planning Commission had only a tape recording of the public hearing

Anthrax hoax/scare strikes Hancock

Despite several panicky reports, no actual disease spores found

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

Paranoia seems to be rearing its ugly head in Hancock County in the wake of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, bombing in Afghanistan and - perhaps most insidious - the national anthrax scare.

Emergency and law enforcement officials all over the Mississippi Gulf Coast have been working overtime the past few days, responding to reports of potential anthrax infestation. That includes minor incidents in which people have responded to sightings of a "powdery substance" in two public facilities in Bay St. Louis and another scare at the Hancock County Welcome Center.

"In accordance with recommendations from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control," according to a statement issued yesterday by Hal Leftwich, executive director of the Hancock County Medical Center, "we urge people to contact local law enforcement agencies to report suspicious letters or packages. They, in turn, will direct you to your family physician or health care provider if a medical examination is necessary. Antibiotics are not routinely administered unless an exposure has been confirmed."

SCARE--PAGE 2A

What you should do in case it really happens

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO

Hancock County Sheriff Steve Garber has issued the following information to make the public aware of what should be done as a result of a suspicious package or item of mail delivered to a residence or place of business.

"Anyone with access to the Internet may go to www.cdc.gov. This is the Center for Disease Control and Prevention web site. This is an excellent source of information," Garber said.

The first concern is not to panic.

If anyone should receive a suspicious letter or a letter that appears empty, the individual should:

1. Not open the letter.

Bishop to visit OLA for dedication ceremony

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, along with Our Lady Academy and Bay Catholic Elementary School, have made plans for a celebration Oct. 19 and 20 and will welcome Most Reverend Bishop Thomas Rodi to the OLG Parish.

The newly appointed Bishop of the Biloxi Diocese will celebrate Mass beginning at 5:30 p.m. at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis followed by a reception at the OLG Parish Community Center. All are invited.

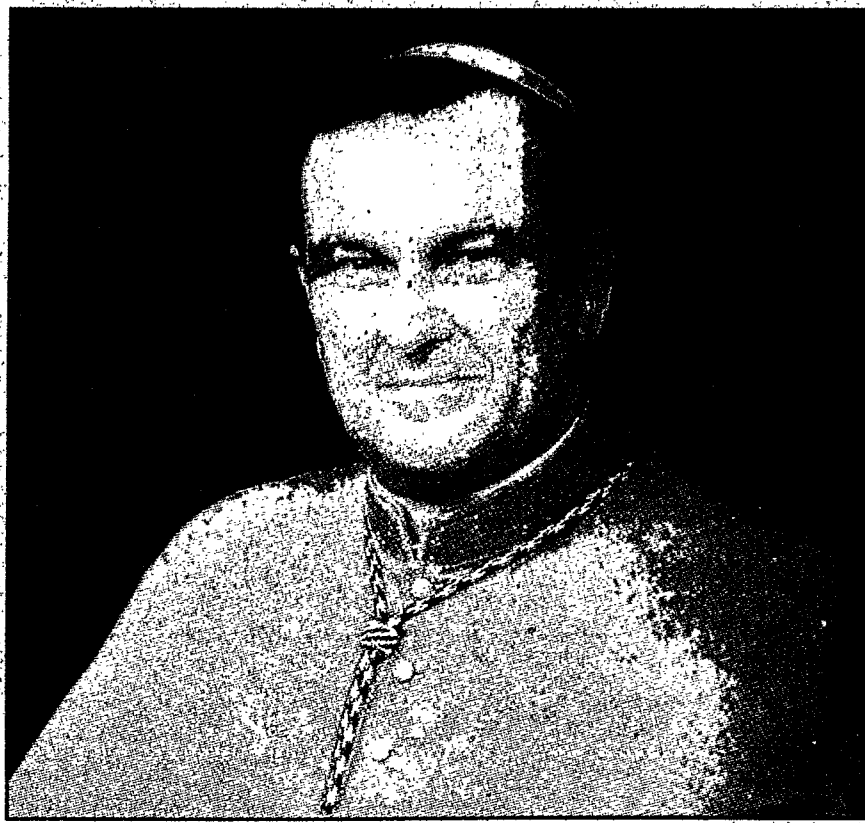

At this first visit to the OLG parish and its schools, Bishop Rodi will also conduct a dedication and blessing of the new classroom building for Our Lady Academy and of the new gymnasium used by both Bay Catholic and OLA.

Larry Jaubert & Associates designed the facilities, and Starks Contracting Company constructed the project.

The new classroom facility, named Catherine McAuley Hall, is in honor of the foundress of the Sisters of Mercy. Catherine McAuley Hall consists of new administrative office space, five classrooms, two science labs and a fine arts lab.

Adjoining the hall is a lobby and kitchen/concession area where OLA students now enjoy lunch and snacks during home sporting events.

Bay Catholic Elementary and

Bishop Thomas J. Rodi

Our Lady Academy have never had a gymnasium of their own until now. The new gymnasium facility includes an athletic director/coaches office space and two locker rooms complete with shower facilities.

Everyone is invited to tour these new additions following Friday evening mass or during the Our Lady Academy Alumnae Reunion Saturday, Oct. 20 on the OLG picnic grounds.

This year marks the 30th anniversary of Our Lady Academy. In 1971, when pastor of OLG, Monsignor Gregory Johnson established OLA, filling a tremendous void left when St. Joseph Academy closed its doors after graduating the last SJA senior class in 1967.

Our Lady of the Gulf Church, Our Lady Academy and Bay Catholic Elementary School are excited to be able to share this truly special and multi-faceted occasion with Bishop Thomas Rodi and the community.

Festivities will continue into the weekend with an OLA reunion. All OLA alumnae and their families are encouraged to join the celebration Saturday, Oct. 20 11 a.m.-5 p.m.

There will be music, fun for children, great food, and friends. For more information regarding the two-day function, contact Debbie Vernon at 493-5923/463-9892 or Our Lady of the Gulf Church at 467-6509.

Scare -- Anthrax

Fortunately, local officials say, none of the reports so far have turned out to be legitimate emergencies.

"The first concern," Hancock County Sheriff Steve Garber said Monday, "is not to panic."

Garber cautioned people to react calmly and responsibly, and alert local law enforcement officials as quickly as possible — but not to do so by exposing numerous friends, relatives or co-workers to whatever the substance may be.

"Basically, we have not had any credible threats so far," Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil said yesterday. "We recently had one at a public facility in Bay St. Louis. We didn't think it was a legitimate threat, but we went ahead and used it as a training exercise."

Representatives from Hancock County Civil Defense, Garber's office, the Mississippi Highway Patrol and the Bay St. Louis and Waveland police and fire departments have already met several times to discuss "suggested guidelines and protocols" for responding to anthrax reports, McNeil said. Those procedures come from several sources, including the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency, the Department of Environmental Quality, the state health department, the national Centers for Disease Control, the U.S. Postal Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"Hancock Medical Center has a disaster response plan in place ...," Leftwich said. "We have periodic disaster drills and are confident of our ability to assist in caring for our community in emergency situations."

"So far, Waveland Police Chief James Varnell said yesterday, his department has received no reports of 'anthrax sightings.'"

"I guess people are using their common sense," Varnell said.

"I just think people need to be on guard, and if they do have something," they fear is anthrax, "please do not hesitate to call us."

But officials also warn any would-be practical jokers that anthrax reports are no laughing matter.

"If anyone is caught maliciously, fictitiously or feloniously reporting this stuff," McNeil said, "it is a crime, and it will be punished. And it looks like it will be dealt with very harshly at this time."

Ladner, Lee to be honored this weekend at PRCC gala homecoming celebration

Frank Ladner of Bay St. Louis, a 1957 graduate, will receive the alumnus of the year award Saturday during homecoming activities at Pearl River Community College and Berlon Lee, a 1954 graduate, will receive the PRCC Distinguished Service Award.

A retired educator in Hancock County, Ladner has given PRCC plenty of time since he graduated in 1957. For example:

- Ladner is former president of the PRCC Alumni Association.
- He is a former member of the PRCC Alumni Association executive committee.
- He is a former board member of the PRCC Development Foundation.
- He is a current member of the PRCC Board of Trustees, serving as vice-president.
- He also serves as president of the PRCC Hancock County Alumni Chapter, which was recently organized.

It is those reasons, and many others, why Ladner is this year's recipient of the school's Alumnus of the Year award.

He will be recognized Saturday as part of the college's 2001 Homecoming celebration during the alumni luncheon set for 11:30 a.m. in the Crosby Hall-Cafeteria and during half-time of the PRCC-Gulf Coast football game at Dobie Holden Stadium.

"We are really pleased to have somebody of his caliber to be our alumnus of the year," said Donna Wilson Lee, executive director of the Development Foundation. "He has been active in alumni activities here even before there was an alumni association. His leadership in Hancock County has been invaluable. I always refer to him as Mr. PRC."

Said Ladner, "When I think back to what it was like when I went to school at Pearl River, it was like a big family there, you knew everybody by their first name. It was probably the two best years of my life."

Ladner graduated from Dedeaux High School in Hancock County in 1955 and PRCC in 1957. After graduating from Mississippi State in 1959, he began a 30-year career in public education. He began by teaching industrial arts and mechanical drawing in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School System. He later served as assistant principal at Bay High for 14 years and principal at the school for two years before his retirement in 1987.

His resume includes numerous community activities. For example, he organized and sponsored the National Honor Society in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District and he established the Hunter Safety Program for the youth of Hancock County.

Frank and Beverly Ladner have four children and they all attended Pearl River Community College. "Now you know why Pearl River is in my heart all the time," he said.

It's also the reason he helped organize the Hancock County Alumni Association. He helped spearhead the Hancock County Alumni Fish Fry recently that sold more than 600 tickets to raise scholarship funds.

"That's the main reason we wanted to start this alumni chapter," Ladner said. "That is to get some scholarship money for some needy kids. The hardest part was getting it organized and going. It took a lot of hard work. Now that we have it going, we should be able to help even more kids in the future."

"Everywhere I go now I hear positive things about Pearl River," Ladner said. "You hear good things about the new president (William Lewis), about the coaches, the athletic facilities, and just the overall presence of Pearl River showing up in Hancock County."

Lee, a successful businessman in Columbia and Picayune, is a charter board member of the PRCC Development Foundation, former president of the PRCC Alumni Association and has served for 12 years as PRCC's alumni representative on the Mississippi Association of Junior and Community College Inter-Alumni Board (appointed by the PRCC Board of Trustees).

In 1991, Lee was PRCC's Alumnus of the Year. He is now very active in the Hancock County Alumni Chapter where he recently helped organize the chapter and assisted in a chapter fund-raising event for more than 400 alumni and friends.

"I feel very honored and humbled," said Lee. "I don't know how long I have been doing this but Pearl River College opened the door for a person from a poor background. Two of the best years of my life were spent here, making new friends and furthering my education."

Born in northern Hancock County, southwest of Picayune, Lee grew up on a dairy farm. He graduated from Pearl River Central High School in 1952. Lee knew early on he wanted to attend PRC, thanks in part to his brother Buron, who was a PRC student.

"I remember going to the college to visit him," Lee recalled. "He was working his way through college. I knew at the time if I was going to go to college, I would also have to work my way through school."

His freshman year, Lee lived with his parents and drove the school bus from Picayune every day. "I was 19 years-old at the time and the bus was always filled," he said. "Somebody would let me ride in the back of a pickup every day so I could get to town where the bus was. It cost $30 a month to go to school back then and they gave me a half scholarship."

"I would drive the bus back to Picayune every day and go to work at W.E. Walker's 5 and 10 cents store for 33 cents an hour. I remember at some point they were building the Movie Star plant across the street from the college and I would occasionally go over there and work for Joe Blackman. We would scrap the mortar off the bricks for 75 cents an hour. I had never heard of making that kind of money."

Lee stayed in Huff Hall his second year and drove 'Ole Pearl' to football, basketball and baseball games, band and class trips. Over the years, Pearl became the most popular bus in PRC history.

"I drove Ole Pearl 20,000 miles that year," said Lee. "I tell people all the time that I am probably the only student who majored in bus driving."

After graduating from Mississippi College in 1956, Lee launched his business career with J.C. Penney's. In 1973, he purchased Pool's clothing in Columbia. The store is now appropriately named "Berlon's," which is managed today by one of his three sons, David.

Today, Lee lives with his wife Brenda, an AND instructor at PRCC, and daughter Bailey in LeeTown in Hancock County. He has developed Triple B Lake in Hancock County where bass bream fishing abounds.

Lee has also been responsible for cultivating several prospective major donors to PRCC and recruiting an endless number of students over the years.

"Berlon's involvement at PRC has been in a variety of ways," said Donna Wilson Lee, executive director of the Development Foundation. "His involvement is not only with our alumni on the local level, but the state level as well. Through the foundation, his commitment to donate money and help raise money has been real important to the school."

Of all the experiences and successes that have followed, you might say Berlon Lee's first love has always been Pearl River College. This is evident by the time and energy he has spent at the college. It's also evident by his sincere words.

"I get a thrill out of coming back to the college and working with the alumni association and the foundation," Lee said. "I hope and pray that the students here today and those who will be attending in the future will have many doors of opportunity opened to them."

The Homecoming court will be presented at 2:30 p.m. Kickoff for the football game is 3 p.m. The day will begin at 9 a.m. with an alumni reception for the classes of 1941, 1951, 1961, 1971, 1981, 1991 and 2001 in the alumni house (located in the president's old home).

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Do not forget the Whitney Bank-sponsored Hancock County Chamber of Commerce October Business After Hours set for this evening, 5:30 to 7:30, at Whitney's Waveland branch, Our Shopping Center. Marilyn Finch, branch manager, has told me there will be lots of good food and refreshments for those attending.

This event is open to chamber members and guests and is always a good event.

The Business After Hours are usually well attended, with everyone enjoying themselves and given an opportunity to make new acquaintances as well as renew old ones.

I hope to see you this evening at the After Hours.

Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws.

The Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws are in a rebuilding year and have not been too successful thus far with a 1-6 record. Stanislaus has found success in scoring some touchdowns, yet needs to shore up its defense.

The Stanislaus-Pass Christian game should be very interesting and could end up with a very close score.

The Tigers, Hawks, Rocks and Pirates all need some good support in the stands on Friday night.

The players work very hard in preparing for each of the Friday night tilts and appreciate good fan support.

Best of luck to each and every player.

There are only three more weeks left of the 2001 regular season for high school football teams. Three of our local teams, Bay High, Hancock and Pass Christian have all done exceptionally well thus far.

Bay High is sporting a 6-1 record, as they shocked Gautier 29-16 in Gautier last Friday week. The only blemish on Bay High's record this season is a 10-9 loss to East Central.

This week, the Tigers will get a real test when they visit the D'Iberville Warriors in D'Iberville.

The high-flying Hancock Hawks took care of Meridian 17-0 Friday to improve their record to 5-2 for the season. It will be homecoming for the Hawks Friday night as they play host to Hattiesburg.

Hancock moved up a notch this year to 5-A play, so they are playing against many of the top teams in the state.

The Pirates of Pass Christian are 6-1 for the season. They clipped East Central 26-21 last Friday to show they are real contenders in their first year in a 4-A conference.

On Friday night the Pirates will play host to their across-the-Bay rivals, the St.

Congratulations are in order for Wayne and Nel Ducomb who recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

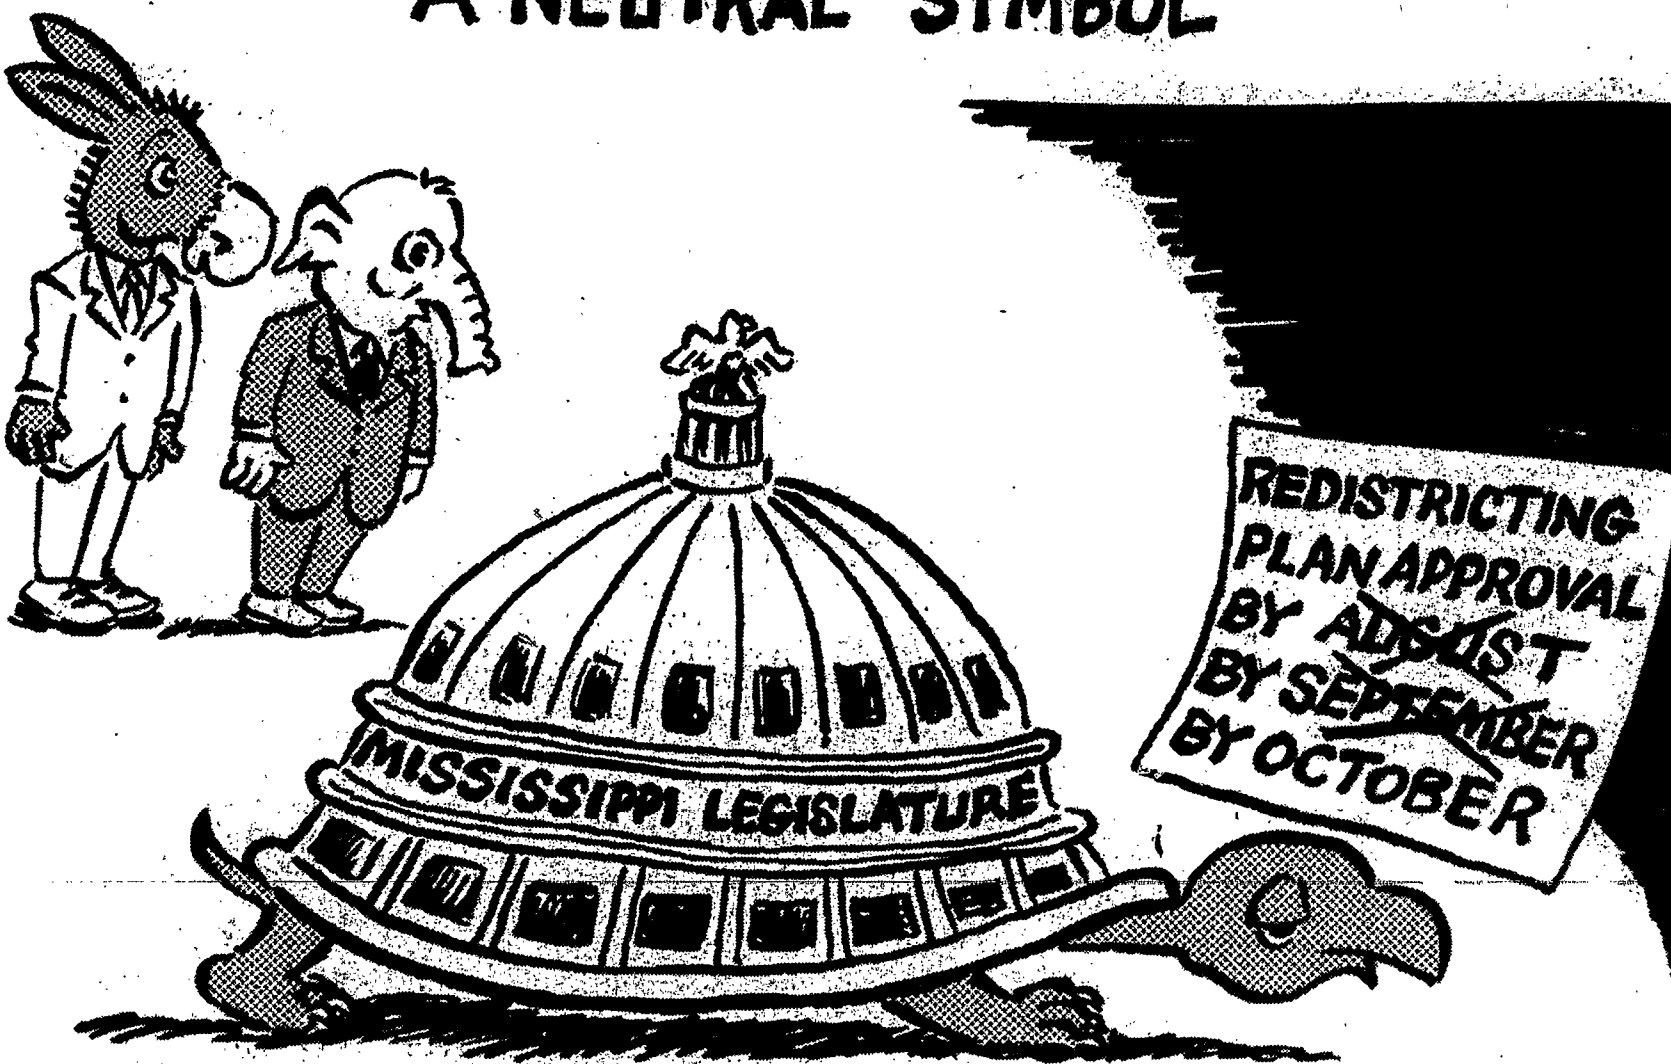

I have known Wayne and Nel for many years. They are the retired owners of their publishing company in Bay St. Louis, and both have been very active in the county. Their publication, Mississippi Monitor, was a very prestigious process color publication many years ahead of any publication on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Wayne is the president of the Hancock County Planning Commission, a commission he has been active in for many, many years, while Nel is an instructor and active member of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Arts Association and a charter member of the Ladies of St. Vincent de Paul Society, Annunciation, Kiln.

Wayne and Nel, who have been residents of Hancock County for 55 years, are a great couple, who have at all times worked for the betterment of the county and coastal community.

Celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary, the Ducombs really have something to be honored for and congratulated.

A NEUTRAL SYMBOL

We cannot allow this evil to defeat us from within

Dear Editor:

Enlisting at the age of 17, I was honored to serve in the Coast Guard during World War II. Traveling all over the world, I was able to see what devastation can do to land and to the people.

A country I greatly admired was England and the English people. They endured continuous bombing daily, day and night, and it only succeeded in making them stronger in spirit and determination not to be defeated.

I personally talked with many Englishmen about the hardships they endured and never fathomed how a people could withstand such devastation and come out stronger.

People of this country have to realize we have never before encountered the effects of war on our home ground. During World War I and World War II we lost many heroes, but this was the greatest price we paid for freedom.

We learned on September 11, 2001 during the tragedy inflicted by the attack in New York and in Washington, DC what devastation the people of the United States can endure on our home ground. This is a great nation, we must not allow fear to destroy it from within.

When President George W. Bush stated that America was declaring war on terrorist groups, I was really frustrated that I could not offer again to fight for my country.

I have discussed this with other World War II vets who feel as I do, but we feel that we can do things here at home to help this country from within.

We are at war also against fear. Fear is not of the Lord, and we cannot allow ourselves to live in fear.

Our country enjoys the greatest economy in the world, based on our free enterprise system. Our blood lines contain the best from every country in the world, and we live, work and create families together.

Our government was based and formed by men and women of all nationalities coming together to create a land that allows religious freedom for all.

People of America must realize this fear originates from the evil ones, who cowardly cause death and destruction on a freedom-loving nation, and we must remember that united we stand, and divided we fall.

We should search the history of this great country. We have been through many wars and many tragedies together. We must remember how great this country is. As the heat tempers the steel, we have become stronger.

During national tragedies, tornadoes and hurricanes, not knowing where or when they will strike, or who may be affected, we have always stood as one, shouldering each other's burdens, picking up the pieces and beginning again. Even when we were not aware when the next will occur.

We cannot look back on yesterday, except to learn from the experience. We cannot worry about tomorrow that has not yet come. We must live for today.

We cannot allow these evil ones to defeat us from within by acting in fear. We must continue to buy and sell to stimulate our economy and continue jobs for our peoples.

America has so many opportunities for our taking. We must remember the reason "In God We Trust" was placed on our coins and currency. We will survive, because we will not forget where our power lies, in a powerful God who loves His freedom-loving people. The Lord speaks to me and He speaks to others, but some do not hear.

My wife and I were talking and considering in case of fire or any disaster, if only time allowed to save one thing of value, what would we select? We both agreed to leave all our material possessions and save our beloved pets.

Let us review our values. Those we love are important, things are not. Go home and hug your kids and your mate. Gather together your family and have the courage to show how much you care as much and as often as you can.

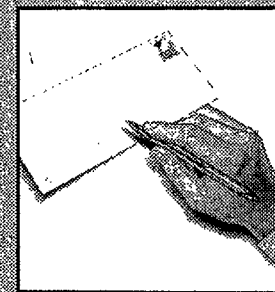

Our God will continue to bless America. Our flag will continue to fly in the breeze and in our hearts.

Proud American

Cruisin' Bay St. Louis took minds off our troubles

Dear Editor,

In the midst of all the tension on the national scene, Bay St. Louis went out of its way to show us South Mississippians a good time Saturday, Oct. 6 at the "Cruisin' the Coast in Old Bay Town."

The staff volunteers hosting the event were most gracious and kept the cars moving without any mishaps.

They did it in a fun-loving way, dancing with the music, but at the same time making sure that the crowd was safe.

Also, the shop owners were very hospitable to all the visitors.

We would like to thank all those who made it such a success.

Looking forward to next year's "Cruisin' in Bay St. Louis."

Waveland Cool Spot, c. 1950

Leukemia, Lymphoma Society seeks school to participate in Pennies for Patients programs

The Mississippi Chapter of The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society's Pennies For Patients Program is seeking interested schools to participate in its nationwide program to raise funds to be used for leukemia, lymphoma and myeloma research and for patient services.

Pennies for Patients is one of the Society's National School and Youth Programs. This year pop singer Mandy Moore, whose new CD, "Mandy Moore," was recently released and features the now single, "In My Pocket," will be serving as the 2001 National School and Youth honorary chairperson.

"I feel very honored to be this year's honorary chairperson of The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society's School & Youth campaign," said Moore. "Because I am a past participant of the Pasta For Pennies program, I am very familiar with both the program and its cause, and I am very passionate about supporting the society's mission."

To further demonstrate her commitment to the society and its School and Youth campaign, Moore will visit the top fundraising school in the country at the end of the school year to congratulate and recognize students for their fund-raising activities.

Since 1993, millions of dollars have been raised in pennies and other spare change by more than 10 million elementary, middle and high school students nationwide for The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society.

The Pennies For Patients Program will run for a three-week period beginning in February. The class collecting the most change in the school receives a pizza or ice cream party. Prizes such as gift certificates are presented to the top fund-raising schools.

School administrators find the program to be a valuable one that also teaches the significance of service, learning and helping those in need.

The Mississippi Chapter will be the beneficiary of funds. "We know there are school teachers and administrators looking for a worthwhile community project for their students to take part in," said Meredith Edrington, campaign coordinator. "By participating in the Pennies For Patients Program, students can help us in our mission of finding cures for these terrible blood-related cancers and helping patients and their families deal with these diseases."

For information on how to become involved in the society's Pennies For Patients Program, contact the Mississippi Chapter of The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society at 601-956-7447 or toll free 877-538-5364.

The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, based in White Plains, N.Y., is the fastest-growing nationwide, non-profit voluntary health organization.

The society's mission is to cure leukemia, lymphoma, Hodgkin's disease and myeloma and to improve the quality of life of patients and their families. Since its founding in 1949, the society has provided more than $200 million for research specifically targeting blood-related cancers.

For additional information, contact the society at (800) 955-4572 or visit www.leukemia-lymphoma.org.

The mission of The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation is to eradicate breast cancer as a life-threatening disease by advancing research, education, screening and treatment.

The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation was founded by Nancy Brinker. In 1980, Nancy's sister, Susan Goodman Komen, a mother of two and native of Peoria, Illinois, died at the age of 36 after a three year battle with breast cancer. Following the spirit Susan exhibited trying to help other women combat the disease, Nancy established the Foundation in 1982 and has become a national leader in the fight against breast cancer. The Foundation now represents thousands of volunteers across the nation and has raised more than $39 million since its inception.

Information about Komen as a national and local organization can be obtained at 1-800-IM-AWARE or visit our website www.breastcancerinfo.com

Big money can be made with science projects

Big money can be made in the world of science projects. Just talk to any winner at last year's International Science and Engineering Fair (ISEF) in San Jose, Calif.

Awards can be in the thousands of dollars, full or partial scholarships to colleges, and grants by scientific agencies.

So, students and teachers, begin working on those projects now and get ready for the Region VI Science and Engineering Fair in Biloxi, March 13, 2002 (changed from Feb. 21).

These awards can be life-savers for students whose college funds fall short of getting them into the school they want. And all it takes is a science project.

Typically, ISEF projects are four- to five-year projects that grow with the student. But that's not to say that a first-time project attempt cannot be a winner.

"I've been participating in the ISEF fairs since 1993, and I haven't detected a pattern yet," said Becky Rotundo, co-director of the Region VI Fair "Anyone with a good project can be a winner."

Region VI works with teachers and students to get the information out and to help with projects. A "science fair project evening" will be held Oct. 23 at 7 p.m. at the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium to give the new-to-science-project students the information they need to get started.

Additionally, information, rules and guidelines can be found on the Internet. Mississippi-specific information can be found at <http://www.engr.msstate.edu/ou/treach/>, while more international-specific information can be found at <http://www.sciserv.org>.

Students and teachers may also call the directors to obtain more information. Fair Director Portia J. Harris can be reached at 228-762-5763, while Rotundo can be reached at 228-688-5328.

Florists rally for abused children at Isle of Capri

Mississippi florists will join together to raise funds for Hope Haven Children's Shelter Sunday, Oct. 28, at 1:30 p.m. in the Isle of Capri Casino Resort Grand Ballroom in Biloxi.

The event was arranged by William Brewer, AIFD, a renowned floral designer and manager of Cardinal Florist in Gulfport and Panache Florist in Biloxi.

The event will begin with a special floral design class (prior sign-up required) and then a viewing of more than 50 floral arrangements from some of the most talented arrangers from across the state.

The displays will then be auctioned off to the highest bidder. All proceeds will benefit Hope Haven Children's Shelter, the only non-profit shelter for abused and neglected children on the Coast. The shelter serves abused and neglected children from south Mississippi.

"We are very grateful to the Isle of Capri Casino Resort for hosting this event for us," said Margie Touns, Hope Haven president.

"The Isle, with its exotic, tropical atmosphere is the ideal place to hold a flower show. And Mr. Brewer is so wonderful for putting this all together. Events like this take a lot of work."

This is the second year Cardinal/Panache florists have sponsored a show for the local children's shelter, and organizers hope it will become an annual event at the Isle.

The floral arranging class is limited to 30 people at a cost of $25 which includes all flowers and materials. Tickets to the viewing and auction are $5 and will be available at the door.

If you are interested in donating an arrangement for auction or signing up for the floral arranging class, contact Cardinal Florist at 864-1281 or Panache Florist at 365-0902.

Sign-ups and tickets are also available from the Hope Haven office, 126 Court St. in Bay St. Louis, 467-7945, and at Diamondhead Discount Drugs from Ann Latham. All donations are tax deductible.

Name the Big Guy Contest underway

Most school children in Bay St. Louis know who the Big Guy is. He is the 10-foot inflatable police officer mascot of the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Police officers want him to have an official name. Community children, K-6, are invited to print their suggested names on a 3"x5" index card and drop it off during Public Safety Day, Saturday, Oct. 27, 10 a.m. - 1 p.m. at the MarkTown Shopping Center.

Mayor Eddie Favre will announce the Big Guy's new name at the Nov. 13 City Council Meeting. He will present the winner with a certificate of appreciation, and Police Chief Frank McNeil will present a special gift.

The winner and the Big Guy will be photographed for future use on the city's website and for other promotional opportunities.

The entry must include the student's name, home address and telephone number and school, along with the special name entry. Entries must be typed or printed and signed by the student.

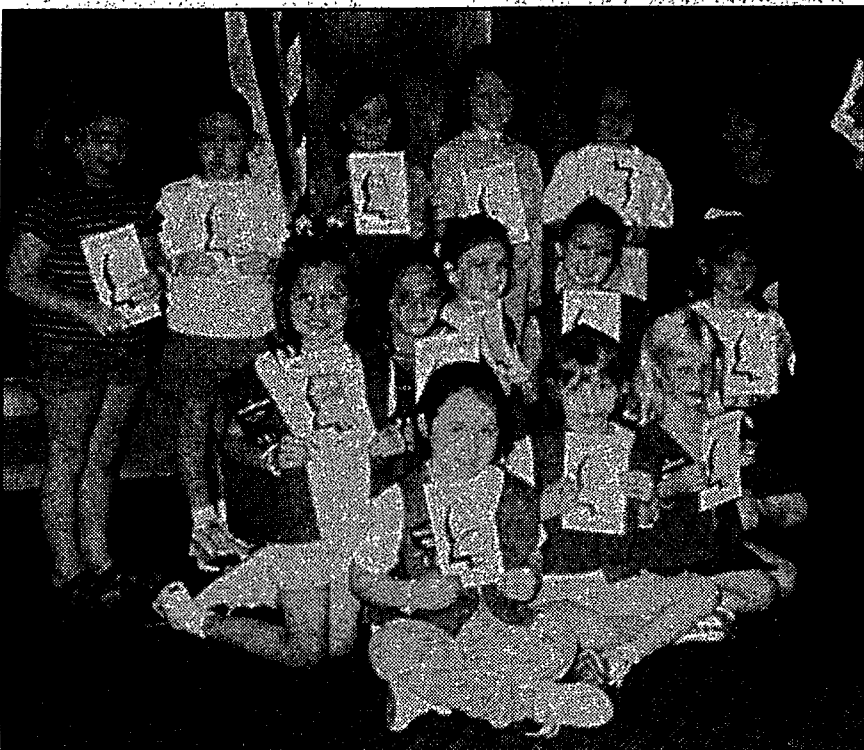

The Big Guy joined the NASA Astronaut and Fire Pup in festival photographs with children in attendance.

"Our school-age youngsters really love the Big Guy," said Chief Frank McNeil, "but he needs a real name, and we know that the children who love him will be very creative in coming up with one."

Bridging

The "former" Daisies of Troop 194 are shown after they received their "bridging" patch, pin, and certificate.

Brownies

Brownies support workers

In order to show their support of the brave men and women who are working to recover victims, as well as those working in the clean-up effort in the recent tragedies in New York City, Pennsylvania, and Washington D.C., Diamondhead Brownie Troop 194 created thank-you cards to be distributed to these brave Americans. Fourteen personalized thank you cards were mailed as a reminder that they are forever in the hearts of the Brownie members, and that Diamondhead Brownie Troop 194 is proud and grateful for their tireless, selfless efforts on behalf of the victims and their families and friends left behind.

Diamondhead Daisies bridge to Brownies

Diamondhead Daisy Troop 194, along with the aid of Laurel Bruce, Paige Muse, and Elizabeth Boozer, third grade Brownies from Troop 340, recently participated in a bridging ceremony held at the Diamondhead Community Center.

Family and friends witnessed as the Daisies bridged to Brownies, which is the next level of Girl Scouting.

The bridging ceremonies represent a girl's growth and development from one stage of life to another. The bridging also coincided with the scouts transferring from kindergarten to the first grade.

Participants in the ceremony were Amy Love, Hannah Wood, Kendall Ritten, Sarah Boozer, Emma McRaney, Amber Koenenn, Andrea Holliman, and Camille Swanson.

During the year, the scouts participated in several community service projects, such as collecting non-perishable food items for the Hancock County Food Pantry and collecting diaries for the children at Hope Haven.

The girls also began rock collecting, participated in two parades, toured an oceanographic ship, skated to raise funds for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund, and held a mock presidential election, where George W. Bush was declared the winner of the 2000 Presidential Election.

Recognized

Brownie members Elizabeth Boozer, Paige Muse, and Laurel Bruce are recognized for their contribution and guidance at the ceremony.

Youth of the Month

From left, Russ Carothers, Key Accounts representative of Coast Electric Power Association; Susan Estrade, assistant principal of St. Stanislaus High School; Brennan Brooks, September Youth of the Month; and Janell Nolan, youth chairperson and senior marketing representative of Coast Electric Power Association.

Exchange Club honors outstanding student

The Exchange Club of Hancock County has named Brennan Brooks as their Youth of the Month for September. He is a senior at St. Stanislaus and the son of Tommy and Judy Brooks of Waveland.

Brooks is currently president of the student body and has received numerous recognitions as a member of the varsity soccer team, including an invitation to play on the Mississippi High School All-Star Select Soccer Team.

He was also a member of the elite Mississippi Olympic Development Program Team and is a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Parish. He plans to continue his education by attending college in Central Florida to study business and law.

The club presented the award to Brooks Sept. 20 during the club's weekly meeting. Coast Electric Power Association sponsored the September Youth of the Month and presented Brooks with a $50 Savings Bond.

Each month nearly 1,000 Exchange Clubs throughout the United States and Puerto Rico honor a young man or woman as their club's Youth of the Month.

The students who receive this award have shown academic and leadership excellence. These outstanding youths go on to compete for the Hancock County Exchange Club Youth of the Year, District Youth of the Year, and ultimately the National Youth of the Year Award.

The National Exchange Club is a group of men and women working to make America a better place to live through one national project, the Prevention of Child Abuse, and other community service projects.

The goal is to become the premier service club in America by igniting the spirit of community service throughout the nation.

First Presbyterian honors Hanawalt for 50 years of ministry Sunday

The family, friends and congregation of First Presbyterian Church in Bay St. Louis will celebrate Dr. Edward A. (Ted) Hanawalt's 50 years of preaching ministry on Oct. 21 during the Sunday morning worship service between 11 a.m. and noon.

A reception in the Fellowship Hall will follow the service.

Dr. Hanawalt was born and reared in Detroit, Mich., and has gained an abundance of wisdom through years of training and experience.

He is a graduate of Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky., where he earned a bachelor of arts degree. He earned his master of divinity degree from Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Louisville.

After serving as pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Louisville for four years, he entered the U.S. Navy where he served as Navy chaplain in various capacities in ships and in shore stations for over 27 years.

During his last four years of his Navy career, he supervised up to 700 other chaplains, taking pride in their accomplishments as they furthered their ministries and careers.

Dr. Hanawalt earned his doctor of ministry degree from the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, Ill., and attended the U.S. Navy Chaplain School at the Naval War College in Newport, R.I.

In addition to serving as a Presbyterian chaplain, Dr. Hanawalt also served the Presbyterian Church as designated pastor in New Orleans and as interim pastor in Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee.

As each church presented unique challenges, Dr. Hanawalt found his special training in the areas of conflict resolution, organizational development, juvenile delinquency and marriage counseling, coupled with his experience in diversity, to be quite helpful.

He is married to Dr. Betty Hanawalt, formerly Betty Lee Basham of Dublin Md. She is a doctor of psychology and a board-certified social worker.

The Bay Gourmet talks at the Depot

Lynda Cook, the Bay Gourmet, will be the featured speaker at the November First Tuesday Talks at the Bay St. Louis Depot. The brown-bag luncheon event will be Nov. 6 with Cook starting her talk and demonstrations at 12:15 p.m.

First Tuesday Talks are free to the public, and the city provides the beverage. No reservations are required.

What could an Arkansas native who is a social worker by profession have in common with gourmet foods?

This writer doesn't really know, but does know that Cook knows 1001 ways to cleverly cover cream cheese and dishes that "fix quick ahead of time," keeping the party lively, the guests happy and the host and hostess out of the kitchen.

Most Gulf Coast residents know Lynda from her first venture into retailing. She owned the ever-popular Lynda's Cookery in Pass Christian and later Gulfport. The venture was successful, but stressful, keeping Cook on the road and away from her home and life in Bay St. Louis.

Finding the right location in Magnolia Mall in the Bay's historic downtown, Cook opened the Bay Gourmet, a specialty shop that features over 60 lines of gourmet foods from exotic chocolates to pretzel mixes, pepper mills, Wusthof knives, kitchen gadgets and gifts.

"I wanted to scale down my work load, carefully focus on specialty foods, and work where I lived," said Cook.

While she laughingly calls her presentation 1001 ways to cover cream cheese, she emphasizes that she will be talking about how to use this essential ingredient to present a spectacular holiday table for two or 200.

She will give techniques for taking a good pantry inventory, using ingredients on hand, and quickly set out a sumptuous table for unexpected guests without cooking the first thing. Cook will also help First Tuesday guests develop the essential holiday shopping list.

Fall Festival set at Gulfview

Gulfview Elementary School will host a Fall Festival Saturday, Oct. 27.

Gates will open at 1 p.m. with lots of fun for the whole family.

Cemetery cleanup at Bayou LaCroix

Jim Ladner and committee have scheduled a work detail for the Bayou LaCroix Cemetery for Oct. 20, 8 a.m. until.

Lunch will be provided. Please bring your own soft drinks. Any volunteers would be appreciated.

Taylor on Dean's List

To earn a place on Sewanee's Dean's List, a student must earn a minimum grade point average of 3.625 on a 4.0 scale.

The University of the South, popularly known as Sewanee, is an independent liberal arts college located on a 10,000-acre campus atop the Cumberland Plateau between Nashville and Chattanooga, and owned by 28 Southern dioceses of the Episcopal Church.

Selected

Ashley Burgess, a senior at Bay High School, has been selected as a semifinalist in the 2002 Merit Scholarship Competition. Burgess is the daughter of Donna and Geoffrey Burgess of Waveland. She is vice-president of her class, as well as treasurer of the National Honor Society and French Club. She has been a part of the Bay High Tiger Pride Color Guard for three years. This past summer she attended the University of Miami's Summer Scholars Program. After graduation, she plans to attend college and major in premedicine.

All-Star

Jennifer Canaski from Hancock High School recently returned from the American All-Star Training Seminar at the Radisson Hotel in New Orleans. She attended workshops on professional auditions, applying professional stage makeup and hair styles, taking care of your body and attaining your goals and reaching your highest potential. ## Ban -- mobile homes held in September, and no official transcript. Gex said an official transcript was needed due to the probability any decision by the board or Planning Commission would be appealed to circuit court.

The first public hearing held at the county's Civic Center on Longfellow Road last month drew around 120 people, with the majority of those favoring plans to ban any more trailers in areas of the county now zoned "R-2-Medium Density Residential."

Following that hearing, the Planning Commission voted to ban the trailers, although they were warned by a representative of the Mobile Home Manufacturers Association his group would appeal the decision to the board, then eventually to circuit court.

Ultimately, the board voted unanimously in a later meeting to uphold the ban, and the MHA requested the public hearing before the board, which was scheduled for Wednesday.

The proposal would prohibit mobile homes in Bayside Park, Shoreline Park, Clermont Harbor, Heron Bay and a few other pocket areas of the county, but they would be allowed in 75 percent of the county "by right" in areas zoned "A-1-Agricultural." In addition, mobile homes would be allowed without a public hearing in areas zoned "C-2-Highway Commercial," if the applicant gets Health Department approval on plans for sewerage treatment.

In other areas of the county zoned "R-3, Multi-Family Residential," and "C-1-Neighborhood Commercial," applications for mobile home parks would require a public hearing by the Planning Commission and approval by the Board of Supervisors.

In addition, those persons living in mobile homes in the R-2 areas or R-1- Single-family areas before zoning took effect would be allowed to continue living there, and would be allowed to upgrade their trailer without having to get approval from any agency, providing they meet the elevation and health department guidelines.

Following Gex's recommendations, the Board took three actions:

• It rescinded its motion of Sept. 12 enforcing the trailer ban and approving the zoning text change.

• It returned the matter back to the Planning Commission, with instructions to schedule another public hearing on the issue, and to hire a court stenographer to record and transcribe testimony at the hearing.

• It issued a new 90-day moratorium banning applications for trailers in the "R-2" areas.

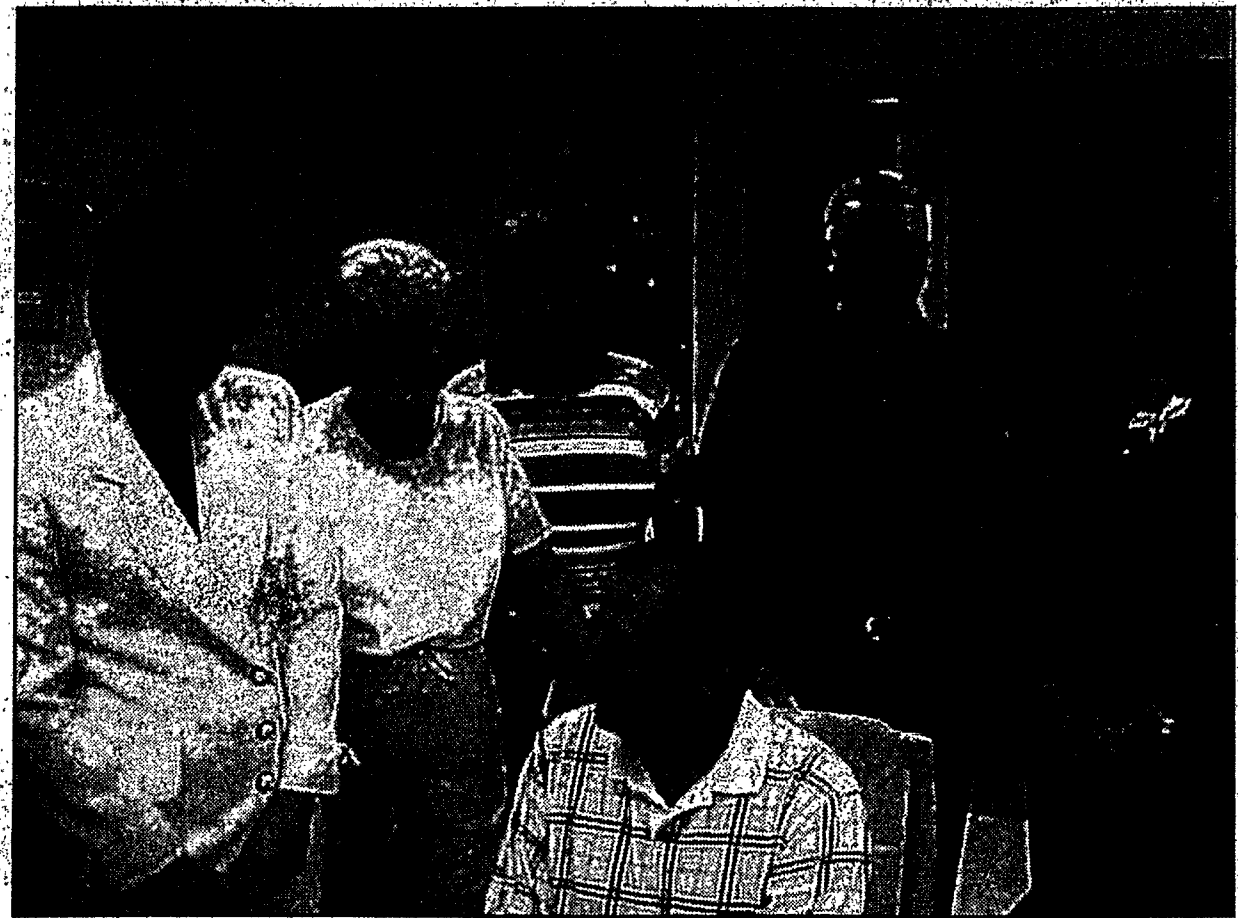

It was difficult to survey how many in the audience had come to the courthouse to talk on behalf of or against the trailer ban, but in recent weeks it appeared the MHA was lobbying hard to overturn the ban.

The Echo has received numerous letters, mostly from mobile home sellers and from some property owners objecting to the ban. Their feelings in favor of mobile homes were buoyed by the fact that in October, Gov. Ronnie Musgrove declared the month Manufactured Housing Month in Mississippi. The feelings in support of mobile homes were echoed by Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan, who praised the affordability and workmanship of the newer manufactured homes.

Citizens who wanted to be heard on the mobile home issue continued to stream up to the Board meeting room until 10:45 a.m., although a sign was posted on both the front and rear courthouse doors announcing the "mobile home public hearing was canceled."

The Goodwill Industries' donations provide jobs to coastal residents in materials processing, warehousing, transportation, retail sales, custodial work, shelf stocking, mail delivery, telephone operations and many other activities. Goodwill aims at giving people not charity, but a chance by giving them an opportunity to work.

The donation of paper products (cups, plates, napkins, paper towels, and the like) to Hope Haven assist in the provision of a safe, local, sheltering environment for children who have been removed from their homes due to abuse or neglect.

While Hope Haven is not a therapeutic program, its staff arranges through other community programs for physical exams for children, intervention screening and counseling.

On average, staff members are able to have a child back in school within three days of entering the program.

Hancock County Food Pantry, an all-volunteer organization, exists to provide food and other non-food essentials to citizens of the county who are experiencing crisis situations.

Referrals are received from area churches and local service providers.

"We are delighted with the opportunity to marshal the many socially minded individuals and groups in Diamondhead," said Whitney Branch Manager Cindy Knoblock, "in a concerted effort to truly make a difference here in Hancock County."

Cooler weather a relief to your lawn

THE PACE FILES

BY STAN PACE

County Extension Agent

The cooler weather this week will be a welcome relief to our lawns, gardens, and landscape plants as well as to our air conditioning units. Predicted lows in the 50's and 40's will relieve any heat stress. The temperatures are not cold enough to do any damage to the vegetables in the garden, but the rate of growth will certainly be slower. These bright fall days with brisk winds create almost as much demand for water as the high temperatures of summer, however. The cool air is much drier than that muggy atmosphere of August and the strong winds move a lot of air past the leaves. This can keep transpiration levels high and may cause wilting if there isn't enough moisture in the soil. Keep an eye out for signs of water stress particularly if you didn't get much rain from the front passing your area. While I am not a strong proponent of over seeding warm-season turf species lawns with cool-season species just for winter color, there are individuals who prefer to do it. If you are one of those then now is the time to do it. Ryegrasses are the most often used species as they germinate rapidly and are relatively inexpensive to establish. Annual ryegrass is the least expensive but is lighter green in color, has coarser texture, and can become clumpy by next spring. Perennial ryegrass (grows only as a winter annual for Southern locations) will provide a much higher quality turf as it is finer textured, and has a darker color. A seeding rate of 10-12 lbs. per 1,000 sq. ft. is necessary to provide adequate color and density. Once established this winter lawn will require fertilizing, watering, mowing and pest management just as your permanent warm-season lawn. Since this temporary winter lawn will be competing with the permanent lawn during spring transition expect some delayed recover of the permanent warm-season grass.

DON'T BAG IT - LEAVE "ALAWN"

The phrase "Don't bag it - leave it 'alawn'" was one that, in Texas, I grew up hearing and seeing. The phrase came from a program that encouraged homeowners to use their fallen leaves or cut grass as mulch or compost instead of bagging it and having it hauled off to the landfill. As I drive around my neighborhood, I see many people bagging up their leaves and lawn cuttings. I secretly drive by and pick up these bags and take them home, because to me they are bags of gold - not trash. All of these bags of leaves and grass are perfect for the compost pile. In no time at all, I will turn other people's "trash" into rich compost for my garden - and it's absolutely free! Many of you may not be so bold as to pick up your neighbor's trash (as I said I do it secretly), but you can use your own leaves and cut grass for compost and mulch. I encourage you to leave your leaves and grass "alawn." Don't forget to

1981: Worries arise about 'nuclear dumping ground'

TEN YEARS AGO

October 10, 1991 - With a gaming license application submitted and access road construction expected to start soon, Lambert Land Company anticipates a February 1992 start for a casino at Bay Cove Harbor.

The company announced Friday that it had submitted the license application to the State Gaming Control Board and that the gaming operation was expected to start next February if the state can complete its investigation and issue a license to them.

The annual Food Pantry school food drive will be held through Friday, October 18, said Wilma McMahon, treasurer. The drive involves students from all schools located in Hancock County, who bring canned and other non-perishable food items to their respective schools. Food will be collected by Coast Electric employees on Friday, Oct. 18.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

October 8, 1981 - The possibility that Mississippi may be chosen for an international dumping ground for nuclear waste was cited as the most critical issue ever faced by the state. Stan Flint, coordinator for Citizens Against Nuclear Disposal, made that assessment of the issue before a group of 25 people from Hancock County who gathered Monday in the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis to form a branch of that organization here.

Hancock County horsemen and racing fans will have to find another place to spend their Sunday afternoons. At least for the time being Sunday was the last day of thoroughbred and quarter horse racing at Oak Downs under the management of Gulfport businessmen and brothers Louis and Alvin Smith. The Smiths announced Sunday that they would no longer operate the facility. Oak Downs began operation in June, 1980.

FORTY YEARS AGO

October 12, 1961 - County, Bay and Waveland officials gathered on the Hancock County Courthouse steps Monday during farewell parade for the National Guard when Russell Elliott presented Capt. Irvin Kingston, commanding officer of the unit, with American Flag given Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 by family of the late Alcee Legendre, past national vice commander of the Legion.

Bay High's defending conference champions picked up their second win of the season blanking Harrison Central's Red Rebels 45-0 behind a powerful ground attack. The Tigers scored nearly every time they had the ball, losing possession twice on downs and once on a fumble. Bay High gained 227 yards on the ground and 115 in the air for at 342 total while Harrison Central 34 yards passing and 16 rushing.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

October 12, 1951 - A 24-year-old Texan, who was serving a life term at a New Mexico penal farm, from which he escaped, was apprehended in Bay St. Louis, Tuesday, October 9, at 1:30 p.m. when the owner of the automobile, stolen in New Orleans, recognized his car and pointed it out to the authorities, Deputy Sheriff Sylvest Moran stated.

The escapee, after a weekend of car thefts and burglaries from Houma, La., to Bay St. Louis, was arrested at Arceneaux's Super Service, (Court Street and Beach Boulevard), where he had

Hancock set for Homecoming
Jordan & Haines tabbed for effortBY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Hancock Hawks recorded a major victory while Pass High and Bay High both inched forward in their search for playoff berths. St. Stanislaus fell short in its bid for a Homecoming win.

The Hancock Hawks shutout Meridian 17-0 to send a message to the other 5A schools: the Hawks are here to play!

The week before Hancock narrowly lost to Wayne County which is currently ranked No. 11 in the state. In fact, Hancock had their chances at winning the game against Wayne County. However, this time around Hancock made sure that it would not squander the opportunity a second time.

After finishing the first half deadlocked 0-0, the Hawks (5-2, 2-1) scored on their first possession of the second half. Chase Sackett booted a 29-yard field goal.

Later in the third period, junior quarterback Brandon Necaie found David Brown for a 26-yard scoring pass that gave the Hawks a 10-0 advantage.

The Hancock defense thwarted a possible Meridian (1-6, 0-3) score early in the fourth quarter and gave the ball back to their offense. Brown scored his second touchdown of the night with a 14-yard run with 2:15 left to play to give the Hawks a 17-0 victory.

This week Hancock will celebrate their Homecoming with a game against Hattiesburg. While Hattiesburg has proven itself in the past, I think they have ever been witness to a Hancock Homecoming crowd. Look for another exciting game from Rocky Gaudin's guys in 'the Kiln.'

The Pass High Pirates are off to the best start in recent memory. The Pirates rely on speed, speed, and more speed. Quarterback Calvin Woods leads the charge on offense and has weapons in Corey Brown and Richard Dedeaux. Defensively, Jason Lizana and Maurice Hardnett have pounded fear into opponents as the Pirates have racked up a season record of 6-1 and 2-1 in division play.

The Pirates held off a late rally by the Eats Central Hornets to preserve the win and keep their post-season hopes alive. Hardnett scored twice in the contest on runs of 44 and 77 yards. Woods added a 79-yard touchdown run of his own while Brown added a 23-yard scoring romp in the second period.

This week the Pirates will host a rival from across the Bay of St. Louis. The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws will invade McDonald Field with upset on their minds. SSC is looking for that elusive first district win while Pass High will be looking to cement its hopes for a playoff berth. Its time for the clash in the Pass.

The Bay High Tigers (6-1, 2-1) proved the naysayers wrong and soundly defeated the Gautier Gators 29-16.

Monroe Jordan scored four times for the Tigers and added 80 yards rushing on 26 carries. Terrance Thomas led all rushers with 114 yards on 14 carries. Charles Hawkins added 76 yards rushing and failed to score in a game for the first time.

Michael Simpkins intercepted a Carrio Rudolph pass and Seth Weigel recovered a Gator fumble to help lead the Tiger defense.

This week the Tigers will face an opponent with a similar game plan - d'Iberville. The Warriors like to run the ball as much as the Tigers do. They have a potent one-two punch in Torey Staten and Carlos Cotton. Staten has already eclipsed the 1000-yard marker this season. He rushed for 268 yards against the Rock-a-chaws last week and now has 1,178 yards on the season.

The Tiger defense will be tested with the power running game of the Warriors. The game looks to be a classic high school gridiron slugfest with power running teams and swarming defenses. The only advantage is the game is being played on d'Iberville's home field. Get there early for the classic confrontation!

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (2-5, 0-3) failed in their bid to give the returning alumni a win on the gridiron falling to the d'Iberville Warriors 52-14.

The Warriors were led by All-State running back Torey Staten who galloped for 268 yards in the game, 252 yards in the first half, and five touchdowns.

The Rocks scored two late touchdowns in the contest. Jeremy Lewis threw touchdown passes to Gabe Willis for eight and 77 yards. The duo also connected for a two-point conversion after the second touchdown. Willis had nine catches for 158 yards and two scores.

This week the Rocks make a trip across the Bay to tangle with the Pirates of Pass High. The Rocks face yet another power running team led by Calvin Woods, Maurice Hardnett, Richard Dedeaux, and Corey Brown.

The Offensive Player of the Week for Week Seven is Bay High's Monroe Jordan. He scored all four of his teams' touchdowns in their 29-16 win over the Gautier Gators. Jordan carried the ball 26 times for 80 yards.

The Defensive Player of the Week for Week Seven is Hancock's Donald Haines who tallied nine tackles in their 17-0 shutout win over Meridian.

All games are set for 7:30pm kickoffs. See you at the game!

Wildcats trim Wolves 20-13 in overtime

Pearl River Community College quarterback Charlie Reeve hit wide receiver Otho Graves with a 25-yard touchdown pass on the very first play of overtime here Saturday to hand South Division rival Copiah-Lincoln a 20-13 setback.

The Wildcats improved to 5-1 overall and 3-1 in league play.

Pearl River brought an abrupt end to the game's opening drive when defensive back Reggie Smith picked off a Willie Johnson pass three plays into Co-Lin's first series. But PRCC didn't light up the scoreboard until its second series of the night when Reeve, hit wide receiver O'Shek Weekley with back-to-back completions a 52-yarder to the Co-Lin 10 then a 10-yard scoring toss. Matt Hoda booted the extra point and PRCC led 7-0 with 9:10 left in the opening period.

On the Wildcats' next possession, Reeve hit receiver Ike Chekwa with a 25-yard completion to the Wolves' 30, but on the ensuing play running back Kiel Angry rambled for 10 yards only to fumble and Co-Lin's Sidney Wiley recovered at his own 17.

Four plays into Co-Lin's drive, quarterback Willie Johnson ran for 38 yards, then running back Darius Bingham plowed ahead on runs of 12 and three yards to push things to the Wildcat 18. Three plays later, Bingham ran it in from the six with 43 seconds left in the first period. Jimbo Thornton's extra point was no good, but Co-Lin had cut PRCC's lead to 7-6.

The Wildcats immediately retaliated. Jaron Fountain, the state's leading kickoff returner, ran the Wolves' ensuing kickoff back 38 yards to the PRCC 45, setting the stage for an eight-play scoring drive. Pad Pearl River's lead.

With 12:43 left in the first half, things were 13-6 PRCC.

Pearl River's next possession cranked up at its own three, but Reeve gave the Wildcats a little breathing room when he hit wide receiver Ronald Brown of Bay High for 33 yards on first down. Seven plays later, a 27-yard completion to Weekley pushed things to the Co-Lin 11, but Odell Bradley picked off Reeve's pass in the end zone on the next play.

Co-Lin drove to the Wildcat 36 but were held on downs in the final minute of the half.

265-pound running back Aaron Yarborough ran it in from the five. Thornton's PAT tied it up at 13-13 with 7:12 left in regulation.

On PRCC's next series, a 20-yard punt by the Wildcats put the Wolves in business at the PRCC 45 and Co-Lin drove to the 20 before coughing up the ball and Roberts recovered for The River. Regulation ended with a 13-13 deadlock.

In overtime, Reeve hit Graves on the first play and Hoda converted to make it 20-13. Co-Lin drove to the Wildcat one in eight plays on its possession, but the PRCC defense hung tough. Johnson fumbled on the ninth play and John Feaster of Picayune recovered to end the game.

Running back Kris Cannon of St. Stanislaus led Wildcat rushers with 55 yards on 11 carries.

SSC drama players to present Neil Simon's 'The Odd Couple'

The St. Stanislaus College Drama Players will present the Neil Simon's rollicking comedy "The Odd Couple" on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 17 and 18, according to Brother Ronald Hingle, SSC principal.

Oscar Madison and Felix Ungar will come to life each night at 7 p.m. in the Resource Center on the campus of St. Stanislaus.

Most people know the story of Oscar, the laid-back slob, and his "neat freak" hypochondria friend Felix. The play was a long-running success on Broadway, a hit movie, and a classic television sit-com.

What some people do not know, however, is that Neil Simon also wrote a female version of the play, incorporating the men's hilarious foibles into the characters of Olive Madison and Florence Ungar.

The SSC Players will present the complete male version of the play plus the female version of Act II, in a two-hour production which promises to bring side-splitting laughter to all who attend.

The cast is led by Preston Ellis as Oscar, Paul Thibodeaux as Felix, Ashley Timidaiki as Olive, and Alicia Asper as Florence. Supporting these fine young actors are Brady Bordelon, David Bradley, David Cruthirds, Ashleigh Dugas, Billy Sherman, Erin Stechman, Chris Patterson, and Julie Rebol.

Tickets are $6 for adults and $4 for students. Reservations may be made by calling 228-467-9057 ext. 251.

The SSC Drama Players will take both versions of Act III to Hattiesburg to compete in the South Mississippi Drama Festival Nov. 30.

Haunted Trail in Saucier

Sponsored by the Compton family and friends, the Haunted Trail provides safe and entertaining family fun, with all proceeds going to support the Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse (CPCA). Sponsored by South Mississippi's Exchange Clubs, the CPCA administers a wide variety of prevention, education and intervention programs and services to the children and families of South Mississippi.

Last year alone, the CPCA provided free services to more than 15,000 children and families, due in part to the proceeds generated by the Haunted Trail. Voted the Coast's best "haunted happening," the Haunted Trail winds through the woods of Saucier with live scenes from your favorite horror movies and worst nightmares acted out before your eyes.

New this year will be the "Scary Barn, an Underly Frightening Experience."

The Haunted Trail's tours of terror will dismays from 7 p.m.

to midnight on Oct. 19, 20, 26 and 27, and again on Nov. 2 and 3. Admission is $5 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under. A shuttle bus will provide transportation to the Trail from Saucier Elementary School, as parking on site is extremely limited. For more information, visit www.hauntedtrail.homestead.com, or call the CPCA at 868-8686.

Edward Baldwin, salesman, owner of the car, was attending business at the Gulf Chevrolet Company, across the street from Arceneaux's when he spotted the car. He immediately called the Sheriff's Office, and deputies came over and blocked the auto in.

Then the escapee returned to the parked vehicle, Deputy Egloff questioned him and then told him he was under arrest. The escapee pulled a gun on the officials, but he was overpowered and taken into custody, and he was then taken to New Orleans where he was jailed.

SIXTY YEARS AGO
October 10, 1941 - The Valena C. Jones High School, a part of the City School System, is in its fourth week of the 1941-42 session with an enrollment of 156. The new school building, built by the city with federal aid and completed in 1939, has eight large classrooms and a long hall which extends the entire length of the building.

Principal J.H. Pollard, who teaches some of the high school subjects, expects a larger enrollment judging from the late entrances and announces the faculty unchanged from last year as follows:

John P. Johnson, seventh and eighth grades, high school history and English and director of athletics; Ethel Edwards, fifth and sixth grades; Helen Holmes, third and fourth grades and music; C.A. Barabino, primary; Sallie Redmond, vocational and home economics. There is a well-established WPA lunchroom in charge of Edna Maurice and Ethel Saucier.

St. Stanislaus College Big/Little Brother event

Saint Stanislaus held its Big Brother/ Little Brother inaugural service on Tuesday, Sept. 18 at our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with a reception following in the James Smith Student Mall, according to Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, principal.

The Big Brother/ Little Brother Program is described by Brother Ronald "as a process of establishing a relationship between two SSC students, namely a senior and a sixth or seventh grader."

Seniors take on the responsibility to be role models. Through their actions, they show the students in the grades below them what is means to be Men of Character. The sixth and seventh graders have someone they can go to for advice, guidance, or friendship.

Saint Stanislaus College is a Catholic residency and day school for young men in grades 6-12. The school fosters character formation and integrates faith development within a curriculum which is primarily college preparatory.

On the right PATH in Hancock

"We are here to reduce youth tobacco use in Mississippi. I am proud that the efforts of everyone associated with The Partnership are paying off," said Dr. Vivien Carter, executive director of The Partnership for a Healthy Mississippi.

"This significant decline indicates that our comprehensive approach is working. The decline in middle school tobacco use is an important reason to keep doing what we're doing to eliminate tobacco use among Mississippi's children."

Significant percentage reductions were reported from 1999-2001 in middle school students who reported previous tobacco use. These include:

- 26.7 percentage-point reduction in current tobacco use.
- 30.4 percentage-point reduction in current cigarette use.
- 35.3 percentage-point reduction in current cigar use.
- 44.4 percentage-point reduction in smokeless tobacco use.
- 38.5 percentage-point reduction in current cigarette use by middle school boys.

"These substantial reductions validate our efforts and the work of hundreds of organizations across our state who receive funding and support from the Partnership.

"They also reinforce the need to keep building our programs, because we still have work to do before we've reached our goal of eliminating the number one preventable cause of disease in our state: tobacco use," said Mike Moore, attorney general and chairman of the board for The Partnership for a Healthy Mississippi. I was really excited to get these results in, how could you not be excited for our youth."
